Alterative

Purify the Blood use Dr. Jayne's Alterative. It acts directly on the blood, stimulating the absorbents, overcoming the obstinate state of the pores of the skin and imparting a healthy glow to the Complexion. Pimples, Pustules, Tetter and Ringworm, Diseases of all kinds, Mercurial affections, Tumors, and all varieties of complaints arising from depraved or disordered blood, are effectually eradicated by this remedy.

fula in all its Forms is cured by the persistent use of Dr. Jayne's Alterative. It destroys the poisonous principle which vitiates scrofula, and ultimately frees it from the system. [illegible] sy and Dropsical Swellings are effectually cured by Dr. Jayne's Alterative. By stimulating the action of the absorbents all watery or calcareous deposits are gradually carried off, toning up the patient at the same time by strengthening the digestive organs and exciting the Liver, Kidneys, &c to perform their functions. For Dyspepsia and Liver complaint it has proven a remedy, and it has established cures in cases of Epilepsy. It may be safely relied on by any one needing a medicine to build up the system, cleanse the blood, or to restore the normal action of the Secretive Organs.

EASTERN NEWS.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Mr. Harrison's Statement.

April 26.—The Chicago Tribune has an interview with Mr. John [illegible] of Indianapolis. Mr. Harrison makes the following statement: At the September, 1872, meeting of the board of directors of the Union Pacific, at which I was present, the President, Mr. Horace F. Clark, called the attention of the board to a letter from the president of the Little Rock land grant road, [illegible] some bonds of that road [illegible] Union Pacific Co. desiring to know [illegible] about these bonds. [illegible] of three to investigate [illegible] adjournment of the board as [illegible] into its possession and all matters connected therewith. Thereupon E. H. R[illegible] one side and told me [illegible] motion for an investigation [illegible] would involve Blaine [illegible] the fall elections were near at hand and Blaine was a candidate for re-election and an exposure of the [illegible] time would be ruin to [illegible]. [illegible] withdrew the motion. [illegible] Millard, of Omaha, who [illegible] a government director [illegible] Rollins, and in his [illegible] I understood [illegible] the bond transaction [illegible] that I did that an [illegible] to kill off Blaine at the [illegible] of which Jeremiah M. Wilson [illegible] and E. H. Rollins [illegible] telegraphed Wilson to ask the [illegible] Fort Smith [illegible] daily re[illegible]. [illegible] afterwards I saw that no [illegible]. On the [illegible] of February [illegible] of the committee [illegible] the matter relating these facts [illegible] Blaine's name, stated that [illegible] a prominent member of [illegible] I never received [illegible] Jeremiah M. Wilson [illegible] days later Delano, Secretary [illegible] a letter to a prominent Re[illegible] it was [illegible] well best on the [illegible] to change the entire board [illegible] railroad and that [illegible] to appoint some one from [illegible] E. H. Harrison. This proposition [illegible] strong opposition that it was [illegible] at that time in making [illegible] the Wyoming Coal Co. [illegible] out of $30,000 or [illegible] want that letter of [illegible] the interior de[illegible] that this action of my [illegible] and the correspond[illegible] and the effort on the [illegible] to have me removed from [illegible] in 1872 [illegible] the time of the re-election of [illegible] neither Mr. Blaine nor any [illegible] in connection with the [illegible]. It is therefore unreasonable [illegible] anybody at that state of [illegible] interested in defeating Mr. [illegible] aspirations. This Little Rock [illegible] have been invented [illegible] but for the killing of the [illegible] showed to links [illegible] attorney, who with [illegible] this affair this [illegible] committed [illegible]. [illegible] that Mort[illegible] [illegible] at forty days [illegible] security or the [illegible] the Little Rock [illegible] a thousand [illegible] copy of it [illegible] and would [illegible] not all these [illegible] Mobilier suits, failed in the courts being [illegible]. In conclusion I [illegible] to go before the [illegible] oath to this state[illegible].

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Secret Service Fund

NEW YORK, April [illegible].—The [illegible] Washington special [illegible] Ackerman's testimony says if the use of the secret service fund was proper [illegible] it is strange that two Attorneys General should require the positive order of the President before they would [illegible] that the chief of detectives [illegible] for campaign work, and if the money was used properly under the enforcement act why has it not been accounted for [illegible] as required by the last section of that law.

Millions in [illegible]

Senator Davis has got on the trail of other startling evidence in the Treasury. A certain gentleman asserts his ability to prove that millions of dollars were destroyed by the redemption division under Spinner and Boutwell.

Steinberger has no Claim.

Secretary Fish has received a large lot of papers from Steinberger. No attention is to be paid to him, the government holding that by going off as an adventurer and [illegible] to a foreign power Steinberger disfranchised himself, and has not the slightest claim on the government.

Oklahoma Territory.

The House committee on territories has adopted Franklin's Oklahoma bill with [illegible] amendments. The bill simply recommends the organization of a territorial government in the Indian territory.

Robeson Next.

The Times Washington special says the evidence before the sub-committee on naval affairs at Philadelphia shows that E. G. Cattell [illegible] the proposed influence of his brother, ex-Senator Cattell, with Robeson. This is the most disagreeable testimony Robeson will yet meet. It [illegible] considerable feeling that such things have [illegible] permitted [illegible].

And then Bridgland.

The [illegible] Washington special says Bridgland, consul at Havre, [illegible] to-day for Havre, but he will be recalled [illegible] charges of a serious nature against him [illegible] to-day.

Secretary Fish holds the Correspondence about Winslow.

Pending the negotiation with England in regard to Winslow, Fish will not produce the correspondence in the case as requested by the House [illegible].

Documents from England Respecting Schenck.

The House committee on foreign affairs to-day received the documents from the [illegible] of the [illegible] Schenck. The committee will not publish them until they are thoroughly examined. Schenck will probably be heard again Tuesday in this connection.

Brooklyn Navy Yard Affairs to be Investigated.

Brooklyn navy yard and other naval affairs about New York will be investigated forthwith. The sub-committee of the House holds its first session next Monday.

Wages of Mint Employes

WASHINGTON, April 2[illegible].—The amendment adopted by the House to-day allowing the employes of the San Francisco mint to be paid [illegible] per cent higher wages than the Philadelphia mint employes of corresponding class is a substitute for the proposition reported by the committee which prescribed $6 per day as the compensation for all operatives, employes now receiving more than that per diem and cutting down to [illegible] all wages now between $[illegible] and $[illegible] a day. The substitute was offered by Randall at the suggestion of Wigginton and Luttrell, and will secure a somewhat higher compensation for these employes than would be received under the original proposition. All other items for the San Francisco mint were adopted as reported from committee.

The House, on motion of Randall, restored the provision for the superintendent and other [illegible] coiner which made an appropriation of $[illegible] for wages instead of $8,000 as provided in the bill. It increased the sum for materials [illegible] instead of the $10,000 provided until it recently came out in debate that Lindermann recommended only $[illegible] for this object. Woodburn strenuously endeavored to obtain an aggregate increase of $[illegible] in these two items. All the Pacific coast members [illegible] Wigginton and Lippitt [illegible] but success was impossible [illegible] Randall's severe strictures on [illegible] Randall and the committee which had the effect of rallying their personal friends to the enthusiastic support of the committee's recommendations.

The Emma Mine Papers.

WASHINGTON, April 2[illegible].—Among the papers received from [illegible] by the House foreign affairs committee is understood to be the original of Schenck's letter of resignation from the Emma [illegible] directory, in Park's handwriting, signed by Schenck.

Eight Years Additional Time for the North Pacific Railroad.

The House committee on Pacific railways to-day came to a favorable conclusion on the Senate bill giving eight years additional time to the North Pacific Railroad Company to construct and complete their road. The bill secures the rights of settlers on the lands withdrawn from market for the benefit of the company and gives the company other lands instead.

Throckmorton will at the next meeting submit an amendment to the bill requiring the Texas Pacific Company to build 30 miles of road from San Diego eastward within the next two years and extending the time for the completion of the road to 1880.

Luttrell will also submit an amendment allowing all settlers within the [illegible] grant to perfect their titles and affording others an opportunity to purchase land at $2.50 an acre. The Texas Pacific is required to complete 30 miles of road from San Diego eastward each year and to complete the entire road in [illegible] years. Failing to do this the lands granted to the Texas Pacific are to be given to the Southern Pacific or any other company that will build the road.

Jones Finished.

Jones finished his great speech on the silver question to-day after speaking six [illegible] all [illegible] was listened to with remarkable attention by every Senator. No speech this session has attracted [illegible] marked interest and few indeed of any session. Much of its effect was lost owing to the fact that he read from proof slips instead of committing and delivering [illegible]. Nearly all the Senators congratulated him at its close, and for several minutes he received quite an ovation. Sherman, chairman of the finance committee, subsequently congratulated him in open Senate with words of praise.

The Tribune's editorial says the club rate speech of Jones raises the important [illegible] question whether it is desirable to raise the [illegible] standard which England departed from in 1816 and Germany is trying to abolish [illegible] the Latin nations still adhere. It is not argument to say that reasons Jones presents deserve no consideration because he is interested in silver mines. The intelligent public is likely to take [illegible] without the provision that the smaller [illegible] shall be first retired, the bill [illegible] defined by Jones would probably prove valueless.

Blaine Benefited by the Attacks on Him

WASHINGTON, April 2[illegible].—Blaine in conversation claims the result of the attacks on him have benefited rather than injured him. He seems in the very best of spirits and says he has no idea of withdrawing from the Presidential candidacy, and is confident of receiving the nomination. He says if he cannot get the nomination he will make no attempt to influence his friends for any candidate.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].

[illegible] the bill to amend the [illegible] in [illegible] of the Treasury [illegible] than three years before it passed. It was [illegible] and sent all over the country [illegible] to California. It was thoroughly examined [illegible] but failed in the House [illegible] and came [illegible] the Senate where it was passed in 1873 so that the bill was really pending three years before it was passed. The act of 1873 did not make any material change in the [illegible] coinage [illegible] order that the silver produced in this country might be sent to China in a convenient form. The act of 1873 did not demonetize silver, but on the other hand the [illegible] system of [illegible] silver dollars were legal tenders.

Logan said the old silver dollar was excluded by act of 1873 and therefore none could be coined.

Sherman said silver was dropped in the act of 1873 because the silver dollar then coined was worth more than the dollar in gold.

[illegible] that the effect of the act of 1873 was that every silver dollar in the country was bought up and sent to the melting pot, and it was more profitable to melt up than to use as a circulating medium. Inasmuch as the people of the country had been deprived of the right to payment in silver coin by the act of 1873 they would expect that when the silver dollar was restored it should be a legal tender. He would vote to strike out the clause in the bill reported by the committee making it a legal tender to the amount of $20 and leave it a legal tender for any amount.

Bogy moved that the bill and pending amendments be printed; so ordered. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—After the expiration of the morning hour the bill to establish an educational fund and apply a portion of the proceeds of public lands to public education and provide for the more complete endowment and support of national colleges for the advancement of scientific and industrial education was called up and [illegible] spoke at great length in support of the bill.

[illegible] submitted a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to inform the Senate how many persons are now employed as revenue or internal revenue agents, giving the date of their appointment, the rate of compensation and expenses. Also to inform the Senate whether in any cases special rewards have been paid or received by any of such special agents who have [illegible] which of them have been [illegible] of any person other than [illegible] treasury and [illegible] department and if so by virtue of what [illegible] authority [illegible].

Mitchell introduced a bill extending the time for the completion of the survey and [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] referred to [illegible].

House.

The Speaker appointed the following committee [illegible] Adams [illegible] and [illegible] Ballard and Walden [illegible].

White stated he had read a newspaper article charging the clerk of the House and his subordinates with lobbying against the reduction in the [illegible] and offered a resolution [illegible] charges were true and whether [illegible] to protect the House [illegible] of the officers of the House [illegible]. [illegible] charge of plotting against the engineer of the House, the writer of which had subsequently been appointed assistant engineer, referred.

[illegible] offered a resolution for the appointment of a select committee to make a thorough investigation into the conduct and management of the custom house and other government offices at New Orleans [illegible] and report at the present session of Congress; adopted.

The House then went into committee of the whole, Cox in the chair, on the legislative appropriation bill, commencing with the appropriation of the War Department.

After progressing as far as page fifty nine, leaving only eight pages to be disposed of, the committee rose and [illegible] from the conference committee on the [illegible] bill made a report that the Senate recede from three of its amendments and that the House concur in three others of its amendments, none of them of any importance. The report was adopted. Adjourned.

Below Lowell, W. T., on the Snohomish river there are a large number of settlers and resident loggers, who would be greatly accommodated by the establishment of a postoffice at Mills Landing. As it is now, they have from five to twelve miles to go before reaching Lowell, the nearest office, and that too in a country without roads.

A bill has passed both Houses of Congress and become a law, directing that the tract of land known as the military timber reservation in Walla Walla county, W. T., containing 641 and 60-100ths acres be granted as follows: The west half of said tract to Mary Sinclair, widow of James Sinclair, deceased, and the east half to said Mary Sinclair and the heirs of [illegible] said James Sinclair, deceased.

The Walla Walla Statesman says: The freight question remains unadjusted. A committee representing our leading mercantile houses interviewed Dr. Baker on Saturday last with a view to bringing about a compromise, but up to this time without result. This quarrel between the shippers and railroad company is embarrassing all branches of business [illegible] to result [illegible] concerned. It is understood [illegible] Dr. Baker's management have the proposition [illegible] merchants under consideration [illegible] answer will be returned [illegible] week.

The [illegible] Bay Mail says: Samish is one of the [illegible] agricultural districts in this county, though comparatively speaking sparsely settled. Some excellent farming land can be bought or rented on the most reasonable terms, while many desirable claims yet remain untaken on the public domain. Last week three new families located at that place, and we are reliably informed that there is ample room for many others. The lands in that locality comprise [illegible] and [illegible] fresh water marsh lands [illegible] the best timber land in the Territory. Samish has two logging camps, two stores and a post office.

Mr. [illegible] Markham, who resides near [illegible] Marion county, drove his six [illegible] to the [illegible] one morning last week for the purpose of feeding them. The oats were poured in the manger, which was not examined. Mr. M[illegible] soon discovered that all was not right with the animals and led them out. Three of them died in a few minutes. Examination of the manger showed that some devil [illegible] could not be human had placed strychnine in the manger the night before and the three horses had been poisoned. A man who would commit such an act deserves to be imprisoned during his natural life if nothing more severe.

New England would speedily give women the suffrage were it not for the fact that women, if united in that section, would outvote the men.

SAN FRANCISCO, April [illegible].—The silver question is becoming very vexatious in Mexico. A letter from there says that owing to the depreciation of silver coin the price of many articles has already advanced 25 per cent.

Counterfeit Gold Coin.

Counterfeit five dollar gold pieces of platinum plated with gold have been detected in this city. One was presented a few days ago at the Bank of California, and was sent to the mint for assay, when its true nature was discovered. Several hundred dollars of these spurious coins were offered to be placed in the bank on deposit by a sea captain who claims he obtained them at Panama at the usual rates of exchange.

The Simonton-Alta Libel Suit.

In the Simonton-Alta libel suit D. O. Mills this morning gave his testimony concerning the circumstances leading to the failure of the Bank of California, before commissioner Mahone, of the district court. Michael Reese and other directors of the bank will be examined this afternoon. The evidence will not be published until presented to the court, when it will probably create a sensation.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION

Organization Effected.

SALEM, April 26.—The Democratic State convention was called to order by H. Klippel, chairman of the State Central Committee. On motion, B. F. Burch was elected temporary chairman and C. B. Bellinger clerk.

A committee of five on credentials was appointed, consisting of A. Noltner, John Whiteaker, H. Klippel, J. Isom and M. Shannon.

A motion to adjourn till 2 o'clock was lost, but a motion for a recess of a half hour was carried.

Upon reassembling a committee consisting of one from each county, on order of business, was appointed.

A committee similarly constituted, was appointed on platform.

The convention then adjourned to 2:30 P. M.

The convention assembled pursuant to adjournment.

The committee on order of business, by Tichenor, chairman, reported as follows: 1. Adoption of platform. 2. Selection of delegates to the National Convention. 3. Nomination of district judges. 4. Nomination of prosecuting attorneys. 5. Nomination of a candidate for Congress. 6. Nomination of candidates for Presidential electors. 7. Selection of the Central committee.

An animated discussion arose upon the adoption of the fifth and sixth orders of business by Weatherford of Linn, and Tichenor, of Curry.

Bellinger moved to vote viva voce on the nomination of Congressman and electors, and to pass the rest of the report by acclamation; carried.

Cochran, of Lane, and Ferguson, of Yamhill, spoke on the question.

Hazard, of Coos, moved to adopt the fifth order of business—the nomination of Congressman—by yeas and nays.

The motion was strongly opposed by Whiteaker of Lane and supported by Hayden, who advocated the adoption of the order and proposed that Mr. Lane, the present Congressman, be nominated by the convention.

The proposed nomination of Lane was received with enthusiasm.

Hayden made a long speech covering much political ground.

Isom, of Baker, moved to postpone nominating a Congressman until five o'clock.

Ferguson opposed any nomination until after the National Convention had been held.

Hayden rose to a personal explanation, and made a characteristically humorous speech, in which he was so severe in his remarks on Ferguson as to be called to order.

Myers, of Clackamas, and Townsend, of Yamhill, in calm speeches tried to pour oil on the troubled waters, and Tichenor moved the previous question. Carried.

Whiteaker protested against the gag law.

Klippel moved that the vote by which the previous question was ordered be reconsidered, which was carried and the debate was continued by Hazard of Coos.

Tichenor moved to postpone further consideration of the question until 7 o'clock, and take up the order of business referring to the platform. The motion was lost.

Cries of "Question, question."

Whiteaker spoke earnestly against a nomination by this convention, and Hayden made a violent speech in reply.

The secretary then called the roll, and the question of this convention making a nomination was decided in favor of its doing so by a vote of 81 for to 40 against.

The fifth, sixth and seventh orders of business were adopted as reported.

Platform.

The platform was then adopted. It declares first that the common schools are the special charge of the Democracy; second, in favor of religious freedom and deprecates sectarian prejudice. Third, it commends the lower House of Congress for its reforms. And fourth, it reiterates the platform adopted last year.

A motion was then made to adjourn, which was lost.

The convention then by a vote of 71 to 47 decided to choose six delegates to the National Democratic Convention, apportioned one to each judicial district and one for the State at large.

The convention then adjourned until 7 P. M.

Delegates to the National Convention

Delegates to the national convention were elected as follows:

J. C. Drawley, first district; Thos. Milliron, second; Mart. V. Brown, third; R. R. Thompson, fourth; J. H. Turner, fifth; H. H. Gilfry and S. A. Miles were nominated for delegate at large. Gilfry was elected 77 to 35.

The delegation of the second district asked leave, by Whiteaker, to retire for ten minutes.

Third district delegates report—Bonham for judge, W. M. Ramsey for attorney.

Fourth—P. P. Strong, attorney.

First—H. K. Hannah, attorney.

Fifth—McArthur, judge; J. B. Isom, attorney.

Second—J. M. Thompson, judge; S. H. Hazard, attorney.

A resolution to indemnify sufferers by the Modoc war was tabled.

Lane Renominated.

The regular order being the nomination of Congressman, Lane was nominated by acclamation, with great enthusiasm.

Presidential Electors

Presidential electors were nominated as follows: H. Klippel, of Jackson; W. B. Laswell, of Grant; E. A. Cronin, of Portland; G. K. Shiel, of Salem; J. M. Shepherd, of Baker. Klippel, Laswell and Cronin were the choice of the convention.

Central Committee

Baker, J. M. Shepherd; Benton, Milton Shannon; Clackamas, G. A. Harding; Clatsop, O. F. Bell; Columbia, H. N. Nice; Coos, A. Lobree; Curry, J. B. Tichenor; Douglas, A. A. Lusk; Grant, G. S. Hazeltine; Jackson, E. D. Foudray; Josephine, B. F. Holtzclaw; Lake, O. A. Brooks; Lane, J. N. Poindexter; Linn, J. K. Weatherford; Marion, Louis Westacott; Multnomah, C. B. Bellinger; Polk, J. McDaniels; Tillamook, R. W. Wilson; Union, A. C. Craig; Umatilla, J. W. Bailey; Wasco, M. H. Abbott; Washington, M. L. Nicholas; Yamhill, W. T. Newby.

A discussion about chairman arose. The question was: Shall the convention or the committee elect him? Noltner moved Bellinger be temporary chairman; lost. The election of permanent chairman went unanimously for Bellinger. He was, on motion of Mart. V. Brown, elected by acclamation.

The following resolution was carried:

Resolved, That in the absence of any delegate from the national convention the delegates present shall cast his vote.

A resolution to move Congress to indemnify the sufferers by the Modoc war was passed.

Salem was agreed upon as the place for the next convention. Some fun followed and the convention adjourned.

Governor Grover was loudly called for and spoke happily, predicting success and complimenting the convention. Mart. V. Brown responded also. Henry Klippel briefly pledged his utmost for success. Others were called but none responded.

EXTRAORDINARY DUTY.—And this reminds us of "a little story" of one of Bishop O'Reilly's flock and the beloved apostle of our State street Baptist church. Catholic Patrick was unloading his little budget of offenses and taking a clean bill of health at the confession. "And is this all?" said the priest; "are there no sins of omission?" "And faith, your riverence, what's thim?" The priest explained what opportunities lost meant. "Chances to do a good thing! Must we account for those, too?" "Certainly they are sometimes the very gravest of our offenses," explained the Catholic father. "By me sowl then, I'm forever lost!" And Patrick seemed to be suddenly attacked with a stomach ache all over him. "Explain, my good fellow; perhaps I can give you comfort." "No, no," said the contrite sinner, "it's too late, it's too late—purgatory forever is me lot. Ye see, I was down to Pecowsick the other day, just back of John Madden's brickyard (and oh! for a drop of his whisky just now), and who should I find there, all alone by himself, but that bloody Baptist preacher, Potter, a fishing, who goes a blackguarding the holy father and your riverence—and I had me gun, and I didn't kill him! Oh, me sowl, me sowl, and there's no help for me!"—Springfield Republican.

ELDORADO LETTER.

THE TRIBULATIONS OF THE FAITHFUL—THE BEFUDDLEMENT OF THE DEMOCRATIC ORGAN AT BAKER CITY.

ELDORADO, Oregon, April 18, 1876.

To the Editor of the Oregonian.

The political horizon still wears a threatening look, so far as the success of the Democratic party in this county is concerned. Heretofore as the immediate effect of their action in convention passed over and a little time was allowed for their members to reflect upon the enormity of a withdrawal from the line of duty marked out, they for the most part were prevailed upon to preserve a clear record, and by the time the election came round, were prepared to vote the Democratic ticket straight, without asking any questions. The difficulty of keeping the organization intact, and continuing their former system of plunder, mainly for the benefit of the "ring" of Baker City, has been constantly becoming a more serious question to manage, until a breach was made two years since, notwithstanding the extraordinary efforts that were put forth to prevent it, and now, since the holding of the Republican convention the gap seems on the eve of widening to an alarming extent. The result of the meeting of the Republican convention on April 12th, in which the Independents also took part, together with a partial organization of some of the leading men of the Democratic party, who believe that a change in local administration would result in the public good, was the bringing out of a ticket independent of party lines, the aim and object of which is to elect to office a class of men who are in no way identified with the doings of the present party in power, and who will honestly and faithfully perform the duties entrusted to their charge. The much talked of political race that is to be run in this county is now, therefore, fairly begun, with the Democratic party supported by its "ring" and its organ to toot its horn on the one side, and the tax-payers whose desire is reform, the reduction of taxes and the honest expenditure of their money on the other. Various opinions exist in regard to the result; and at this early day it is impossible, of course, to do more than guess who may be winners in the race. But report reaches us that the plan meets with much favor in the northern portion of the county, and also in and about Baker City, while here few seem as yet ready to express decided opinions. We believe, however, after time to gain a full knowledge of all questions involved, that the people of this part of the county, regardless of party prejudices, who do not favor the present state of things, will heartily sanction the action of the convention as a step in the right direction, which, if it does not result in complete victory, may go far toward the desired end.

The troubles of the little party organ at Baker City, the Bedrock Democrat, seem to be increasing of late. We have no desire to add to its difficulties, or make its course through life any harder than it is; for it would appear that its efforts to support the waning cause must soon end its earthly career. But since it has been so ready to act the part of a champion, and to criticise our late letter to the OREGONIAN, whether it be the production of some individual who considers himself attacked or editorial matters not, we think it but proper for the benefit of those whose curiosity may be excited in regard to the truth of the matter, to notice it briefly. In the issue of April 12th the Bedrock calls us a "smart Aleck," and otherwise misuses us. It is surprising it had not thought to have called us a "Yank." It presumes from its classical knowledge to dictate to us in regard to the orthography of our name. We will just say that we came honestly and fairly by our name, and are not aware that our claim to it is disputed. If the fact that quite a portion of the Democrats have withdrawn from the Democratic party and are to-day endeavoring to defeat it, is not evidence of the truth of statements made in our letter referred to, then what evidence can be required?

In the matter of the citizenship of Judge Lawrence the Bedrock has shown most commendable zeal in bringing proof to the support of that assertion. It quotes the constitution of the United States. It appears that it is in possession of that document. Yes—we do come to think, recollect of hearing something about an amendment to the constitution. We are considerably enlightened upon the point and believe the quotations are good law, and therefore have nothing to offer in opposition to it. It does seem pretty clear that the Judge is a citizen of the United States. But there is no controversy about this. We beg leave to say that we did not mention the name of anyone in our letter referred to, or make charges of any kind. We were speaking what some of the disaffected Democrats themselves that took part in the Democratic convention, had been saying. So far as our acquaintance with Judge Lawrence goes, we find him to be very much of a gentleman and feel quite certain also, that he is abundantly able to take care of himself, without the protecting wing of the Bedrock, which closes its criticisms by appropriately remarking that, "There is such a thing as modesty—there is such a thing as an absence of it." We wonder if this sentiment was not uppermost in its mind when it tried to prove that the action of the Democratic convention was unanimously endorsed by the party, quoting from the columns of another sheet of the same color, which had previously taken the same statement from its own. The Bedrock has got things badly mixed somehow—perhaps in the "perturbed" state of its mind, growing out of the cloudy condition of the political outlook here, together with the uncertainties of the coming Presidential election in this State, it is unable to make ordinary distinctions. We don't wonder it says "poor fellow!" We feel a little that way ourself.

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1876.

YESTERDAY'S COUNTY CONVENTION.

The action of the county convention yesterday, betokens an harmonious campaign and consequently a successful one. The delegates selected to represent this county in the State Convention are persons of high standing in the community, and such as would be most likely to command the confidence of Republicans of all wings of the party. It was the manifest purpose of all present to endeavor to reorganize the party on those principles of fair dealing and freedom of individual judgment which formed the basis of the party organization in its best days. Some persons, desirous of securing co-operation among all Republicans, in view of the approaching national election, having consulted together, suggested a plan of action which would be calculated to bring about that result, and their efforts were met by the party generally in a spirit that augurs well for the party in the final contest. The remarks of those delegates who take occasion to express their adherence to the doctrine of the right and duty of the citizen to act on his individual convictions of duty at the polls, instead of committing his conscience to the keeping of the convention, were received with evident satisfaction by a large proportion of the delegates, and two at least of those who have always been classed as straight-out Republicans were heard to express approval of the sentiment. We refer to this merely as indication of the extent to which the spirit of true Republican tolerance and moderation has taken place, of the inexorable discipline which a few years since made it the price of a man's liberty to identify himself with the party. This is a fortunate change for the party, and we feel assured the result will be gratifying to all who regard politics from a higher standpoint than mere personal interest.

It was rumored during the forenoon that the county central committee had determined to request the convention to adjourn, after choosing State delegates, for such time as would enable them to consider the matter thoroughly, and then to reconvene and nominate a county and legislative ticket; but the plan was abandoned, if we are correctly informed, because of the opposition of one of the prominent candidates for a county office, who thought the action of that convention should be confined to the matter specified in the call. It was thought safest not to take any unusual course, so long as serious objection was urged. Perhaps, under all the circumstances, the committee decided wisely. It would have been well, however, if such an agreement could have been reached as would have vested in this convention the power to do all the work, as it is certain no better body of men will be selected hereafter. These gentlemen having been selected without reference to the nomination of county officers, is a strong reason why they might be expected to make satisfactory selections. Not having been named by any candidate they would be free to act as they thought best for the people. We heard it suggested during the convention that as good a way as could be devised to dispose of the whole matter, would be for the people of the several precincts who desire to see a fair convention, to unite on the same delegates and refuse to be importuned by candidates to make changes. The suggestion is a good one. The candidates may not all be pleased with it; but the candidates are just the persons who ought to have least voice in selecting candidates.

A CLEAR CASE OF VIRTUOUS INDIGNATION.

J. M. Johns, of Marion county, an individual whose reputation, though not very extensive, is decidedly odorous, is indignant because the OREGONIAN has seen proper to remind the people of Oregon of the incalculable injuries inflicted on the State by Holladay's fraudulently appropriating to his own use the proceeds of the magnificent land grant given to the State by the General Government to secure railway connection with other States of the Union. A pretty correct idea of the sort of person this virtuously indignant Mr. Johns is, may be formed from a perusal of his letter on the subject, which we clip from the Statesman and present to our readers in full:

Ed. Statesman: We propose to write a few plain lines on account of an article by the editor of the OREGONIAN in that paper of the 24th inst. It is intended evidently for a last slam at Ben Holladay. It is made up of all the lies and vituperation that have been heaped upon him from the time he first set foot in Oregon to the present time. It is made up of the whole dirty, filthy, lying mass, concentrated, boiled down, extracted, compounded and generally worked over and condensed in and shot out of the most corrupt, debased and infamous sheet that ever disgraced the journalism of Oregon. Ben Holladay, with all his faults, is as much above the low, contemptible ink-slingers of the purchased, truculent, debased, dishonorable, dishonest and purchasable owners of the dirtiest sheet in Oregon, known as the OREGONIAN, as heaven is above hell, as day is above night, as right is preferable to wrong, as honesty is preferable to dishonesty. In fact, the ghost of Ben Holladay, which seems to scare that little few of the OREGONIAN so much, is pleasurable to embrace, and the tracks he has made in the sands of Oregon will be kissed by thousands while the live carcasses who control the OREGONIAN will be loathed, and the stench of their corruptions will breed pestilence, and famine, and destitution and corruption on the people of Oregon for generations to come.

We do not appear in print as the defender of Ben Holladay's private character, of which we know nothing. We do not write in his interest for any place of profit or trust that might be in his reach as a citizen of Oregon. We are not his defender as a politician. In fact, we do not exactly know whether he has any particular politics or not, and if he has any, we don't know whether he would be on our side or not, but in simple justice to the man, we want to put ourselves on the record. We believe that had it not been for Ben Holladay, Oregon would not have had a mile of railroad to-day, and if we had no railroad millions of bushels of wheat that have been shipped from our shores, would never have been raised; hundreds of enterprises by which our citizens are now amassing fortunes, would have been lying dormant; thousands of citizens of our State would have been eking out a miserable existence in some other part of the world, who are now identified with us and helping us to develop the resources of this far off country. Ben Holladay built some 225 miles of railroad without asking one dollar from the people of Oregon. He spent his time and money to defeat the corrupt ring who claimed to have a franchise on the west side of the Willamette, the very ring who now have their hungry paws extended to the people of Oregon and want to sell out again. The money they there got did not carry them to the Senate, and it has since been used in buying mail contracts, and in trying to buy up the Democratic party to vote for their chief for the United States Senate, together with buying and running the low, disgraced organ of the corrupt set known as Oregonian ring. Now they propose to cover up their rottenness of purpose by heaping abuse unmeasured on Ben Holladay. The people of Oregon have measured Ben Holladay. They know what he is, and he is a man that will pass for his face anywhere. They have also measured the ring of corruptionists known as the Oregonian God and Moralities, who would strain at a gnat and swallow a camel, no difference how large the hump, so it was well greased with mail contracts, promises of Senatorships, railroad franchises and abuse of Ben Holladay and Senator Mitchell. We wish to say to the OREGONIAN, show us what you have done for Oregon. Every dollar you or your owner has got has been amassed from the sweat of the people of Oregon, your gains have only added impetus to your avarice, and your avarice, increased by your ill-gotten wealth, has only increased your ambition and added to your power to crush out the working people of our State and fasten the chains of servitude still more securely on those you can deceive.

Ben Holladay "showed his faith by his works," and in direct opposition to many who amassed fortunes by his enterprises, has built his railroads, developed our resources to a certain extent, and while those he has thus benefited have to a certain extent, caused his enterprises to be a failure financially, the people of Oregon will always hold Ben Holladay in grateful remembrance, and his name will be revered and honored when the vile defamers and bought scribblers who have tried to traduce him will be confined to such utter oblivion that no type-setter, however much he may desire a job at the case, or no ink manufacturer, however cheap the fluid can be produced, could be induced to put their names in print in their defense.

J. M. JOHNS.

It is, perhaps, unnecessary to add anything to the evidence furnished by this letter, of the general character of the writer; but it may assist the reader in his search after truth to be informed of some particular facts which he could hardly be expected to reach by inference. This virtuous Mr. J. M. Johns was, until Holladay came to Oregon, a lobbyist by occupation and a roaring Democrat by classification. Holladay had special use for his kind, and hired him to turn his coat, and he became a Republican lobbyist and was unenviably conspicuous in connection with quite a number of the disreputable jobs in which "the old man" was engaged. In 1872 he was employed by "Mitchell"—who had not yet got his name in quotation marks—to put a considerable sum of money "where it would do the most good," and it has been stated on the authority of the aforesaid Johns that he did his work very successfully. For this service he was to receive a large sum of money from the man who sports the quotation marks, provided the latter was "pulled through." But when pay day came round the owner of the patent reversible back-action, self-adjusting name, being "desperately short" of funds, did not respond just as promptly as Johns thought the contract required, so he came down to Portland and offered to three or four different persons to "give away" the gentleman of the patent name for coin. Finding the market for that sort of commodity not quite so brisk as he had anticipated; or, to speak more directly, finding nobody here willing to buy him at any price, he resolved to make the best of a bad case, by writing to the gentleman of quotation marks, that he was offered a good round price, and would sell mighty soon, "if things were not fixed up." So the Senator, whose marvellous resources in political matters are well known, went to work "to fix things up," and, having first pacified the virtuous Johns for the time being, he soon got matters into a shape that enabled him to "see" Johns at the rate of $2,000 a year, payable in the way of bonus on certain government contracts. Johns has not got all his pay yet, but he is getting it; which explains the ebullition of his "pheelinks" at this time. Besides this virtuous individual has another grievance against the OREGONIAN, which gives edge to his indignation at our strictures upon the great railway fraud. At the last legislature he had a contingent fee to get a job through, which would have cost the State many thousands of dollars; and the OREGONIAN, with its usual disposition to intermeddle in such cases, quietly snuffed the scheme out by showing that it was a lobbyist's job, instead of legislation for the good of the State.

So much for the man and the animus by which he is inspired. No wonder he has the people of Oregon down on their bellies kissing the tracks in which Holladay has trodden. No wonder he has the hardihood to assert that Holladay built his railways without "asking the people of Oregon for a dollar," in face of the fact that he never used a dollar which did not belong to the people of Oregon; in face of the fact that he not only defrauded the people of the State of their land grant, but bled Portland $100,000, Albany $50,000 and Eugene $60,000, all in hard gold coin, as a personal subsidy to himself in order to get him to build the roads as those towns desired them, at the expense of the company. Nor is it wonderful, in the light of all these facts, that the virtuous Mr. Johns attributes the failure of Holladay's enterprises in Oregon to the influence of other persons, instead of ascribing them to his own recklessness and dishonesty. Indeed we can hardly imagine anything too absurd for Mr. Johns to think in favor of the late Mr. Holladay and the gentleman of the back-action name—at least until the last of the annual $2,000 installments is paid. Further particulars, if required.

The Democrats last night renominated Lafayette Lane for Congress. It is, perhaps, as strong a nomination as the party could have made. If we mistake not, this is the first instance in the history of the State, of a Congressman being nominated for re-election. The instance of a Congressman being re-elected, we opine will not be seen till it appears in some future campaign. The renomination of Judge McArthur is a cause for congratulation. The report of his declining to be a candidate for re-election was received with very general regret, and his renomination will be hailed with gladness by the people of that section generally. Those who belong to the opposing party will feel that if the Democracy are to elect a judge it is well they have chosen the right man. We congratulate our young friend Fred. Strong on his nomination for district attorney of this judicial district. He will make a good run and be beaten, probably from 800 to 1,000 votes.

One of the broadest jokes of the season is the resolution passed last night by the Democratic State Convention declaring "the common schools are the peculiar charge of the Democratic party."

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

The committee on order of business submitted the following, which was adopted:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:—Your committee report the following order of business for adoption:

1st. Election of permanent officers of this organization.

2d. Election of thirteen delegates to the Republican State Convention. It is recommended that the thirteen delegates be voted for at one ballot, the persons receiving a majority of all the votes cast be declared elected.

3d. Miscellaneous business.

4th. Adjournment,

C. A. BALL.
T. CONNELL.
H. D. SANBORN.
Committee on Order of Business.

On motion of Thomas Connell, the temporary officers were declared the permanent officers of the convention.

ELECTION OF DELEGATES.

It was moved and carried that the chair appoint two tellers, and H. McCraken and Wm. Barnes were appointed.

On motion Geo. W. Durand was authorized to cast the vote of St. Johns precinct.

On motion C. A. Ball was authorized to cast the vote of C. Hegele, a delegate from Western precinct, who was not present.

H. W. Scott was authorized to cast the vote of E. A. Cunningham.

A number of gentlemen having been placed in nomination for delegates to the State Convention, after a few remarks by Messrs. Sanborn and Arnold, who asserted their belief in Republican principles and claimed their right to act independently of rings or cliques, and their determination to act on their consciences at the election, no matter what the conventions might say or do, the convention proceeded to the election of thirteen delegates. On the first ballot Charles Hodge, J. D. Biles, G. A. Steel, R. Weeks, W. H. Watkins, D. Goodsell, J. P. O. Lownsdale, C. A. Dolph, C. A. Ball, John McCracken, H. C. Shattuck, Geo. V. James, and P. Kelly, each received a majority of the votes cast and were declared elected to the Republican State Convention to meet in Portland May 3, 1876.

On motion the convention adjourned sine die.

BOATING NOTES.

The Stark street ferry is again running by cable.

Freight on the upper Willamette is quite lively.

Both the railroad and Albina ferries are making regular trips every few minutes.

The O. S. S. Co.'s steamer E. N. Cooke brought down a full cargo yesterday morning.

The fractured shaft of the Willamette Chief will be welded to-day at the Iron Works, after which it will be placed in the boat.

The steamer Calliope is lying at the Albina Iron Works having her machinery, engines and boiler undergoing a complete overhauling.

Carpenters are engaged in getting out the timbers, knees, etc., for the new light-draught steamer which is to be built this season at Celilo.

The new steamer Tenino, at Celilo, is all completed, and will be launched to-morrow. Everything is finished and the boat will be ready for service the moment she touches the water.

Work on the new revenue cutter is being crowded forward as expeditiously as practicable. The wood work is approximating completion, and workmen are engaged in getting the boiler and machinery together. It is expected to launch the cutter some time next month.

A large shaft reached here on the last steamer which is to take the place of the fractured one on the Dixie Thompson. The shaft has been forwarded to the shop at The Dalles, where it will be trimmed down, and have the flanges attached, and then sent down to this city for service.

The O. S. N. Co. have recently sent for a number of surplus shafts, which are to be used whenever any of their steamers break one. Fracturing shafts is quite a frequent occurrence, and it is to provide against long delays in such an event that the company has sent for a number of spare ones.

The last steamer brought up a quantity of iron, which will be used in making the boiler for the O. S. N. Co.'s new boat (recently purchased from Captain Beaumon). The engines have been placed in position, and the work on the boiler will be vigorously pushed to completion. The Willamet Iron Works has the contract for building the boiler.

Mr. Steffen, the contractor, will soon commence to lay the timbers for the keel of the new tug and pilot-boat to be constructed this season by Captains Holman and Gilman. The boat will be built at Albina, a short distance north of the new revenue cutter. The engines and machinery for the tug are almost completed, and the boiler (which was in use on the tug Varuna), is being overhauled and rebraced.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Local agents are wanted for W. C. Bryant's popular history of the United States. Particulars will be found in another column.

Why will you suffer with deafness, noises in the head, defective sight, nervous head and mind complaint, etc., etc., when Dr J. Cleburne can cure these, and kindred diseases. His office is at the Clarendon hotel, room No. 13. Sufferers should read his advertisement and not fail to call on him.

"What is pleasanter," asks a Louisiana paper, "than getting up these April mornings and going out to pick a rose in your front garden." Well, we can think of nothing pleasanter, unless it is going to Beck & Waldman's to buy from their elegant stock of clothing.

Mrs. A. J. Root, who has opened a Private School in the Hall street church, corner of Hall and Sixth street, is meeting with splendid success. Having commenced on the first inst., she has now nearly twenty pupils. Terms only $5 per quarter. Owing to the public schools being so crowded, this is a good opportunity for parents to send their children where they will advance in their studies more rapidly.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

The railway committee of the Board of Trade have determined to submit to the directors of the Central Pacific Railway Company certain modifications of the bill prepared by the latter concerning the construction of the Winnemucca railway. The nature and extent of the proposed modifications appear in the following letter from the committee to C. P. Huntington, Esq., Vice President of the C. P. company, which will be forwarded by steamer mail to-day:

PORTLAND, April 26, 1876.

C. P. HUNTINGTON, Esq., Vice President C. P. R. R., New York—Sir: Your communications of 14th ult. and 4th inst. were, together with the bill referred to in the latter, duly received and submitted by us to the Board of Trade, who passed a resolution thereon, copy of which we enclose, and to which we direct your attention.

While we appreciate your kindness in forwarding a proposition for consideration, we regret much that the various conditions therein named were inadmissible to the people. Not only our Board, but the people of this city and State generally, express the opinion that it would be impossible for your bill in its present shape to pass into a law, hence useless for us to submit it to the legislature or recommend it to the people.

We have, however, been again delegated by our Board to submit to you the very highest terms possible for the people of Oregon, in our opinion, to bear, and accordingly we have taken the liberty of altering and modifying your bill for reconsideration on your part, as to which permit us kindly to remark as follows:

1ST—FARES AND FREIGHTS.

It is absolutely impossible to expect the legislature of Oregon to pass any railroad bill, no matter by what route, or how speedily we obtain the desired connection with the Atlantic States, which would in the slightest make discrimination of fares and freights between rates for California and Oregon. Both legislatively and commercially, the people and commerce of this city and State have rightly, we think, for years centered all their efforts to make this North Pacific coast independent of California or other control. If, therefore, this State is pecuniarily to assist in constructing any railroad for Oregon it would only do so for one purpose, namely, to give its citizens such rates of freight and fare as would enable us, by developing our various resources, to successfully compete in trade and commerce with our sister State and build up here in Oregon direct trade and travel to and from the Eastern States. There must be no misunderstanding or compromise between us on this essential point, without which a railroad would be valueless to our commerce and people. We have already what you call "through bills of lading on goods and merchandise from the Atlantic coast and Mississippi valley at rates not exceeding those charged to or from San Francisco by rail with the charge made by ocean lines added thereto." If, therefore, this clause is still to continue in force when your railroad is built, what possible increased benefits could the commerce of Oregon to and from the Eastern and Atlantic States then receive which it does not now possess?

This is the last clause in your bill, but we allude to it in the first place because, in our opinion, of vast importance to the future of Oregon.

2D—PAYMENT OF $210,000 ANNUALLY FOR THIRTY YEARS.

While we feel satisfied, as expressed to you in our letter of 5th February, that the people of Oregon will do all in their power to assist in securing railroad connection, yet with all deference we submit it is scarcely possible for a population of 100,000 persons to bear the proposed taxation for thirty years. If the people had any guarantee or we could convince them that this railroad after being constructed would as you say "bring additions to our population, and wealth and expansion to the State's various industries, so as to make the consequent burden of taxation easier to be borne than those we now carry," we should certainly cheerfully acquiesce in the thirty years time even on a sum of three millions; but as a committee we must merely convey to you the sentiment of our people who are, it seems, directly opposed to pecuniary assistance beyond fifteen years. It is possible, although perhaps not probable, that the people would authorize the legislature to vote $210,000 for twenty years, but as we would recommend that sum, and for the period of twenty years, to their respectful consideration we have as you will see inserted it so in the bill. Thirty years as you require is, however, (if we think we correctly reflect the people's views), a much longer time than the legislature and people would vote for.

3D—TAXES EXEMPTION IN SECTION SIX.

This exemption is so framed that it is possible under it for any railroad company which might acquire your franchises hereafter to so manipulate its affairs as never to be able to give 10 per cent per annum on "the capital stock of the company," after deducting expenses, interest, sinking fund and other charges which would thus practically secure exemption from taxes forever. The most equitable mode is that already wisely adopted by the last legislature of Oregon in giving exemption from taxes for twenty years, but only upon the railroad and telegraph line with the equipment, structures and appurtenances thereto belonging as in section 11 of the Oregon Central Pacific R. R. act of 1874, (Pengra act), and we have accordingly altered your bill to the time and mode already fixed by the State legislature in that act and would so recommend it to the people.

4TH—POINT TO COMMENCE CONSTRUCTION, AND TIME OF COMPLETION.

It is essential that if the State is to guarantee interest on three million dollars, yourself and associates must on their part guarantee in return to contract and build from a "connecting point in Oregon easterly of the O. & C. R. R., and across the Cascade range "at least 40 miles (not 20) in each year in order to secure from the State the appropriation desired. Further although Mr. Tilton assures us that you will, no doubt, complete the road from Nevada to Western Oregon within three years, which we personally do not doubt, yet it must be made a condition precedent of the State's grant and pecuniary assistance (if given to your company), that you at all events guarantee to make this connection within five years after commencing to build the road. Knowing as we do the vast unlimited resources at your company's command, and the speedy and satisfactory manner in which you and your associates have hitherto constructed the Central Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, and the fact well known to all railroad men, particularly to yourself that the cheapest way to build railroads anywhere is to hurry them through, it is quite unnecessary (if you are really in earnest to give us railroad connection) to have a greater time than five years,—even although the people of Oregon would permit it, which we know they would not. Certainly we will admit that if the proposed railroad were to be constructed without the State's assistance at all, we could not and would not seek to insert this or any other of the previous conditions to which we have here referred. But as the people of Oregon (whether they are correct in this or not we cannot say) look hopefully to the construction of the Northern Pacific railroad to Portland within five years, it would be inconsistent for them to draft any legislative proposition short of five years to build the road from Nevada to a connection in Western Oregon.

5TH—PORTLAND SUBSCRIPTION.

The Board has observed your remarks on this point, and as you have left this matter discretionary with the citizens and city of Portland to vote what sum if any, they may think necessary, towards the stock or bonds of your road, it may appear unnecessary on our part to make any alterations on section 9th,—more especially as you say that the assistance required would probably not be asked until after this city had secured pecuniary benefits and advantages from your proposed road and only for the building up of, as you say, important structures at Portland. At the same time, keeping in view the fact that you did not ask from the county and city of San Francisco combined greater assistance than $400,000 in bonds, it is, we think, considering the immense advantages San Francisco derived from your Central Pacific main line and branches, unreasonable for the legislature to permit the people of Portland to vote, should they be willing, a greater sum than $300,000, hence we have fixed that the maximum limit of Portland's proposed indebtedness to this latter sum.

6TH—POWER TO PURCHASE STATE LANDS.

The object of this section we fail to see nor do you seek to explain. The remaining State lands are now, however, so limited in extent that even although the Legislature granted you this right it would be of no pecuniary value to your company. At the same time we do not believe the Legislature would grant the permission,—hence have deleted this section entirely.

These are in detail the various alterations we would respectfully suggest upon your bill. In making them, it is possible we may have over-estimated public opinion, but in this the people, through their next Legislature, will best be able to say. We believe, as representing our own Board of Trade (who, one and all, anxiously seek an Atlantic railroad connection) that we correctly reflect their views, hence, if we are right in so thinking, we beg to say that the bill herewith enclosed, as modified by us, will, we think, (if it meets with your approval) be submitted to the people for legislative action at the next meeting of the Oregon Legislature, and we earnestly trust, as so amended, it will not only meet with your approbation, but that also of the people of this State.

Being without legal guidance, we do not seek to express any opinion upon whether the bill, as framed and altered, is in accordance with the Constitution of Oregon. On this point your own legal advisers will, of course guide you, whether it is best to put the bill in the form of a contract or not.

Very respectfully your ob't servts,
W. S. LADD
HENRY FAILING,
B. GOLDSMITH
JOHN McCRAKEN,
WILLIAM REID,
Railroad Committee Board of Trade.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE CONCERT.—Prof. Geo. P. Newell has reason to feel flattered at the large attendance last evening at Masonic Hall, on the occasion of the complimentary benefit tendered him by a number of his pupils and friends. A varied and excellent programme was presented, and, from the liberal measure of applause accorded the individual performances, it gave entire satisfaction. We are unable to mention, for want of space, the names of all who appeared during the evening, but will content ourself with alluding to a few of the more excellent features of the programme. Particularly worthy of mention was the duet, "In the Starlight," rendered by Misses Sarah and Ida Sparks, piano solo, "Sounds from the Fairy Land," by Miss Carrie O. Barnhart; vocal solo, "Now E'er," by Mr. J. Van Beurden; piano solo, "German Triumphal March," by Master Biven; vocal duet, "Ave Maria," by Miss Richards and Mr. Atkinson. The remainder of the programme was rendered quite passably, and altogether considered, the entertainment was successful financially and in other respects.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our dear and respected friend Capt. Daniel Baughman; therefore be it

Resolved, That while acknowledging and bowing to the summons, we do deeply regret the untimely end to which he came.

DR. HALPRUNER.

Removing Life's Heaviest Burden.

To remove the burden of disease, the heaviest that poor humanity is compelled to bear, is certainly a grand object, a glorious mission. Assuredly the discoverer of a remedy which accomplishes this result is entitled to the gratitude and respect of mankind. Such a remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, whose great success is attributable to the fact that its restorative action upon the debilitated and disordered system is in accordance with the principles of common sense. It invigorates the sick, and, as their strength increases, the burden of disease grows lighter. It reforms those physical irregularities which render weakness chronic, and thus eradicates the evil at its very source. Liver complaint, malarious fevers, constipation, urinary troubles, uterine weakness, and many other causes of general debility and ill health, are completely removed by the combined tonic and alterative operation of the Bitters.

Public Speakers and Singers will find Brown's Bronchial Troches beneficial in clearing the voice before speaking or singing, and relieving the throat after any exertion of the vocal organs. For Coughs and Colds the Troches are effectual.

BECAUSE A PERSON HAS A BAD COUGH it should not be inferred that Consumption has set in, although a case of Consumption is rarely met with unaccompanied by a distressing Cough. Where, however, a disposition to Pulmonary disease exists, a Cough, if left to itself, strains and racks the lungs, wastes the general strength, and soon establishes an incurable complaint. In all cases, then it is the surest plan to get rid of a Cough, Cold, or Hoarseness without delay, and for this purpose no remedy acts more promptly or surely, or with more benefit to the organs of the chest than Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant.

SOCIAL, PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

Under date of April 26th, our regular correspondent sends the following:

S. Friedman has purchased the entire stock formerly owned by Josephus Holman, and will dispose of a large portion of it at auction.

Miss Mira Belt will entertain her friends at her home in this city next Friday evening. A pleasant time is anticipated, and a large number of invitations have been issued.

At a regular meeting of the Episcopal church guild, held last evening, it was resolved to give a sociable at the residence of Hon John F. Miller on Thursday evening, May 4th.

M. J. Rawhl of this city, has been awarded the contract of supplying the State Fair grounds with pipe and apparatus for furnishing hereafter an adequate supply of water.

Another skating carnival is announced to take place at the rink to-morrow, Thursday, evening, at which time Messrs. Belt and Chase will have the second contest for the ownership of the championship medal.

Prof. T. M. Gatch, who has so efficiently filled the position of President of the Willamette University for a number of years, has accepted a like position in the State University at Eugene and will eventually remove thither. Our University loses one of its main supports, the equal of which will not soon be found. He bears with him the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

The following players will comprise the first nine of the College Club for the Centennial season: George W. Belt, captain and pitcher; Jas. R. Coleman, catcher; Hoag E. Akin, short stop; A. N. Morris, 1st base; Frank M. McCully, 2d base; Billie Basket, 3d base; Bliss D. Rickey, left; G. A. Peebles, center, and R. A. Miller, right field. The nine is undoubtedly the strongest ever put out in Salem, and competing clubs will have their hands full to get away with the Centennial medals.

TWO SONGS

I—THE BOAT OF MY LOVER.

O boat of my lover go softly, go softly
O boat of my lover that is bringing him to me
From the homes of the stranger, from the burn
From the hills of the mountain, that he may more see

O boat of my lover go softly, go softly
Thou bearest my soul with thee
I said not a word, but my heart it was breaking
I still as the stars and the main ...

O boat of my lover go softly, go softly,
Through the tears ... the kind hand
Hold by me, my lover, and I'll ... till I
The ... done

II—DEEP IN THE VALLEY

Deep in the valley ... beholder
In the May ... to me
... we sate my head upon her shoulder
Fondly we dreamed of the days ... to be
Fondly we dreamed of the days ... to be

Deep in the valley, the rain falls colder and colder,
Safely she sleeps beneath the churchyard tree,
Yet still I feel my head upon her shoulder
Yet still I dream of the days that could not be Yet still I weep o'er the days that will not be.

NO DOGS ALLOWED IN THE CARS

It happened on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. The train had just left Easton, and the conductor was making his first round when he observed a small white dog, with a bushy tail and bright black eyes, sitting cosily on the seat beside a young lady so handsome that it made his heart roll over like a lop-sided pumpkin. But duty was duty and he remarked, in his most deprecatory manner

"I'm very sorry madam but it's against the rules to have dogs in the passenger cars."

"Oh, my! is that so?" and she turned up two lovely brown eyes at him beseechingly. "What in the world will I do? I can't throw him away. He's a present from my aunt."

"By no means. We'll put him in the baggage car, and he'll be just as happy as a robin in spring."

"What! put my nice white dog in a nasty, stuffy, dusty baggage car!"

"I'm awfully sorry, miss I do assure you, but the rules of this company are as inflexible as the laws of the Medes and them other fellows, you know. He shall have my overcoat to lie on, and the brakeman shall give him grub and water every time he opens his mouth."

"I just think it's awful mean, so I do, and I know somebody will steal it, so they will," and she showed a half notion to cry that nearly broke the conductor's heart; but he was firm and sang out to the brakeman who was playing a solo on the stove:

"Here, Andy, take this dog over into the baggage car, and tell 'em to take just the best kind of care of him."

The young lady pouted but the brakesman reached over and picked the canine up as tenderly as though it was a two-weeks' old baby, but as he did so a strange expression came over his face like a wave of cramp colic and he said hastily to the conductor:

"Here, you just hold him a minute till I put this poker away," and he trotted out at the car door and held on to the brake wheel, shaking like a man in an ague.

The conductor no sooner had his hands on the dog than he looked around for a hole to fall through.

"Wh why this is a worsted dog!"

"Yes, sir," said the little miss, demurely, "didn't you know that?"

"Yes, I'm awful sorry to say I didn't know that," and he laid the Christmas dog down on the owner's lap and walked out on the platform, where he stood half an hour in the cold, trying to think of a hymn tune to suit the worst sold man on the Lehigh valley road.

ABOUT WOMEN

A barber shop was opened at Atlanta, Ga., in which all the operatives were young girls.

The Queen of Madagascar is enforcing an order to free all slaves imported during the last nine years.

The love of gold does not always govern, for a St. Joseph, (Mo.), girl recently refused a wealthy suitor because he ate beans with a knife.

The Tabernacle girls who formerly divided the contents of their lunch baskets with Mrs. Tilton Christiancy have not yet been invited to call.

It has been ascertained that a majority among the Scotch and Irish members of Parliament, are strongly in favor of a woman's franchise bill.

A little girl four feet high and 14 years old living in Cass county, Ill., was recently married to a farmer who measures six feet and two inches and is 29 years of age.

A "sweet girl graduate" of Vassar residing in Albany kicked her father down stairs the other day because he found fault with her translation of a Latin sentence.

A fashionable young lady of Chicago was heard to remark that she hadn't got anything new this winter, and didn't expect to get much "until after father fails."

An impecunious but ingenious tramp has left the colored population of Georgetown, Texas, poor in pocket and sore in body by initiating them, at $2 50 a head into a lodge of "Freemasons." The principal part of the ceremony, next to paying the fee consisted of tying the candidate on a table face downwards, and branding him with a hot poker.

New York Herald: The news comes that several lady leaders of fashion in Washington are exulting over the social ruin of the elegant and beautiful Mrs. Belknap. Ladies, after she has gone you may pull and strain and hump up your shoulders and squeeze your toes together, and yet there will not be one of you who can get on her No. 1½ shoe.

Two sons of Erin, shoveling sand on a hot day, stopped to rest and exchanged views on the labor question. "Pat, this is mighty hard work we're at." "It is, indade Jimmy but what kind of work is it you'd like if ye could get it?" "Well," said the other, leaning reflectively upon his shovel and wiping the perspiration with the back of his hand, "for a nice, aisy, clane business, I think I would like to be a bishop."

Indications are appearing that the long continued rainy weather and depressing ... look to business circles and though it might be difficult to point exact ... there is an evident better tone to the market in most all departments ... if the weather remain settled it is expected that an increased activity in local improvements ... better demand for money and especially as the approach of harvest in California as well as this State will soon exert a large sum to the business of exporting the crops. At this time there is scarcely any demand from that direction and here as well as in San Francisco there is no inconsiderable amount of capital seeking profitable investment.

The Boston Advertiser vouchsafes its opinion ... about ... that generally entertained in the East in reference to the course taken ... the Pacific coast in regard to silver. It says:

California does not intend to be deprived of her sound currency anyway. It is necessarily a matter of honor between buyers and sellers inasmuch as the legal tender laws apply in California as everywhere else. Whoever chooses to resort to the courts can have the privilege of paying his debts in paper, but nobody goes to the courts for that kind of relief. Moreover California is determined to have the real thing, and no silver sham. As things now stand, silver is a currency that not only fluctuates more than paper but is on the whole depreciated more than our government's promises. Therefore California thrusts it out of her system and will have none of it. This is a defiance of the law and a violation of it but the whole community of the Pacific coast is guilty together and we presume there would not be great alarm if there should be a threat to compel that people to obey the law. They will not do it.

The Tonnage Question

As the harvest approaches and the prospects of an unusually heavy wheat crop in California and a large surplus in this State for export the question of the supply of tonnage and probable rates becomes one of vital importance to producers and shippers. At this time there are about 9 000 tons of tonnage disengaged in the port of San Francisco besides a large number of vessels on the way to that port—a portion of the latter class it is fair to presume being under engagement for the new crop. The latest charters for immediate loading do not indicate any advance in freights but shipowners are quite firm in their demands for engagements to load in the months after harvest. San Francisco will commence the year with a moderate supply of tonnage in port but shippers have hardly taken up the usual number of vessels. The exporters here as far as we can learn, will pursue about the same policy followed up last year and charter vessels only when the cargoes are within reach. There will be but few ships under engagement from the Oregon trade the experience of 1874-75 having taught a severe lesson in the matter of making extensive charters long before the crop was harvested. The most recent charters in San Francisco to load after harvest are reported to have been made at £3 2s 6d to Liverpool direct or £3 5s to Cork or Queenstown for orders. Should rates from Oregon bear the same proportion to those from California that they have heretofore which justice demands they should not engagements could not be effected here at less than the maximum rates which were paid the past year.

Shipping Intelligence.

San Francisco Markets

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SAN FRANCISCO April 26.—Flour—The competition of country millers has compelled city millers to drop the rate 12½c extra now jobbing at $5 87½ @6 50 on the silver basis with the usual discount if paid in gold.

The wheat granaries of the country now being emptied, are found to contain considerable surplus above the probable wants of the market between this and next harvest. If shipped at all this surplus must go to Europe and it is likely some concessions will be deemed necessary to get rid of it. The presence of the weevil in some warehouses of the State is urged as an additional reason why they should be cleared before the arrival of new wheat. The present range, good to choice grades $1 80@$1 90.

Barley—Easier. feed $1 ... brewing, $1 25@1 30.

Oats—$2@2 ..., with but little business.

CITY ADVERTISEMENTS.

Ordinance No 1752.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving that part of Oak street lying between First and Fourth streets.

The city of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of Oak street lying between the west line of First street and the east line of Fourth street, shall be completed in the manner hereinafter provided on or before the fifteenth day of June, 1876.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all timber plank or other obstructions (sidewalks and plank roadways of the proper width and grade and otherwise in good condition excepted.) If the obstructions are not removed within three days after notice from the Superintendent of Streets they shall be removed by and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of grading, laying sidewalks, plank gutters, a plank roadway sixteen feet in width, and planking the intersections full width.

Section 4. The grading sidewalks plank gutters and sixteen foot roadway shall correspond as nearly as practicable to the provisions of sections 6, 7, 9 and 10 of Ordinance No 793 entitled "an Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets," except that the stringers for the roadway shall be 4 by 8 inches instead of 4 by 6 inches. The planking of the intersections shall conform to the provisions of sections 6 and 7 of Ordinance No 1250 entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the time and manner of improving that part of G street lying between North Fourth and North Sixth streets."

Section 5. The provisions of sections 11 and 12 of said Ordinance No 793, shall apply to all lumber and material used in the improvement provided for by this Ordinance.

Section 6. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress, and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Superintendent of Streets.

Section 8. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for, receive proposals and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvement specified in this Ordinance.
